Hamilton, for example, we are intellectually necessitated to think that every new phenomenon must have previously existed in another formbut not necessarily in this, that, or the other particular form; for a knowledge of which we are indebted to experience. 7 In other words, what tbe preceding form of any new phenomena actually was, has been determined by the Supreme Will, and is, in that sense, arbitrary. God is the proper cause of the antecedent and consequent forms or phenomena of existence being what we actually find them t0 be. seem to become philosophers to employ their thoughts (contrary to what some hold) about the final causes of things, =0 for, besides that this would prove a very pleasing entertainment to the mind, it might be of great advantage, in that it not only discovers to us...
